“ Daddy Pat, I miss you so much. You werent my father but that didnt stop you from treating me like I was your daughter. You supported me, advised me, cared for me in every way. Losing you has been one of the hardest things I've ever been through, and I've lost so much in my young life, but losing you has impacted me the most. In life and in death I will always keep in mind all the things you told me, 'do what you need to do, count on yourself, and push to be better than you used to be'. You pushed me harder than anyone else. And I hope more than anything you're proud of the person ive become. I miss you so much. I just have to keep telling myself that you're no longer in pain. You'll always be my daddy Pat, love tinybaby heart
